

are entered into negotiations regarding the armistice and peace. Comparison to the disadvantage of Germany and the advantage of Austria are made between the plain, honest negotiations of the Austrian acceptance and the verbal trickery which has been the German position.

Austria has followed Bulgaria in complete surrender, a fact which is pointed out in very important because it completes the isolation of Germany. Germany's reluctance to tread the same path is comprehensible, but that she will inevitably be forced to walk this path is beyond doubt.

Allies to Go Through Austria.

Though the terms of the armistice to Austria-Hungary may not repeat in all respects the terms to Bulgaria it is assumed that in one case as in the other provision will be made for the allies to use the territory and railways of the surrendering country against any associate who continues the war.

Thus the Germans, if they decide on a war of defense, must be prepared to meet an invasion of Germany from the Austrian side. They will find the whole Italian army free to operate against them, while they themselves will lose the cooperation of the Austrian divisions.

On the east front at the same time they will be cut off from Roumania and to a large extent from Ukraine and their supply problems will become insurmountable. It is obvious that without Austria-Hungary Germany can only hold out for a strictly limited period, that all possibility of her improving her situation disappears, and that the only effect of further resistance on her part will be to render her still weaker after the war.

The action of Vienna in throwing up the sponge seems, therefore, the beginning of the end. News of the Austrian surrender can only have strengthened the determination of the military and naval chiefs of the allies to exact adequate guarantees that Germany, if granted the armistice, will be in no position to renew hostilities in case the terms of peace ultimately to be put before her do not meet her views as to what constitutes a peace of justice.

CROAT REVOLT SPREADS

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(British Wireless service.)—Grave reports regarding the situation in Austria-Hungary continue to be received in London. It is reported from Amsterdam that the announced preparations for the evacuation of the Austro-Hungarian army has had a very depressing effect in Berlin.

A telegram from Zurich says that the revolutionary movement at Plume is spreading throughout Croatia and that the Delic, Terzic, and other leaders of Plume, and Segna, Ogulin, are in the hands of the revolutionists. Another Zurich dispatch says that Count Tieser, the Hungarian conservative leader, has declared that in his opinion the conclusion of a separate peace between the entente and the different nationalities of Austria and Hungary is only a question of time. The Frankfurt Gazette says concerning this question:

"We resign ourselves to the complete capitulation of Austria-Hungary within a few days."

Emperor Rescues Austria.

VIENNA, Oct. 28, via Basel.—Emperor Charles and Empress Zita of Austria arrived at the Schoenbrunn palace on Sunday morning from the royal chateau at Godeolles, near Budapest. The emperor immediately received Count Julius Andriess, the new foreign minister, and Prof. Lammasch, the premier.

A Countryman's Emperor.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 28.—The position of Austria-Hungary is making tremendous impression on Germany. The whole German press admits Emperor Charles is practically a monarch without a country. No section of his once faithful Austrian and Hungarian subjects appear to want him. Indeed he has been warned not to enter one town on Hungarian soil.

It had been arranged that the Emperor and Empress Zita should go in a few days to Budapest, but the burgomaster of that town has requested the government to see that the visit is postponed for an indefinite period "owing to the feeling in the country and having regard for the fact that the enemy stands before the gates."

Of the emperor's visit to the royal chateau at Godeolles the singing of the national hymn called forth a storm of protests throughout Hungary. The president of the lower house declared the incident to be "a tactless provocation." It is likely the national hymn will everywhere be suppressed.

Emperor Charles in an order to the army and navy dated Oct. 28, which also is printed in the newspaper, announces that the day bringing peace to the home is coming nearer. The emperor appeals to all to "maintain loyalty and obedience in these grave times full of confusion which must not spread to the army and the navy."

ALLIES CONTINUE ADVANCE ON WEST FRONT

1—Berlin reports repulse of allied attacks in region of Scheldt river, east of Aachen.

2—London reports British overcame stiff resistance south of Valenciennes and advanced on the borders of Morlaix forest.

3—Paris reports the French have reached the German front from the Oise to the Serre river and the enemy is in retreat on this entire front. There was heavy fighting on east bank of Oise before Grand Verly, where Germans delivered heavy counter attacks. Further south the French advanced to the approaches of the Oise northwest of Guise. On the whole Oise-Serre front the French are in fresh touch with the enemy.

4—West of Chateau Porcien the French advanced north of Herpy.

5—Paris reports French advance between Oise and Serre rivers is gradually turning the whole enemy front in the Champagne from Chateau Porcien to the Argonne.

6—Americans repulsed German attack north of Grand Pre and the Aisne river, Gen. Pershing reports.

7—The Americans have cleared Clerly Le-Grand of the enemy.

8—Pershing reports that Bois Belleu, east of the Meuse, is now completely in the hands of the Americans. Further south there was lively fighting in eastern portion of Ormont wood.

9—Americans long range guns have begun bombardment of Longuey, twenty-three miles northwest of Verdun and the citadel railway line paralleling the front.

10—Berlin claims American attacks in Conservoy wood and Ormont wood east of the Meuse were repulsed.

a break with the past. State Secretary Groeber and War Minister Maj. Gen. Scheuch both declared that there was nothing in the reforms which could endanger the firm structure of the army or the personal relationship between the Prussian king and the officers.

Calls Kaiser Still Dangerous.

The Berlin Vorwaerts, the Socialist organ, in an account of Saturday's meeting of the reichstag, says Eduard Bernstein, the Independent Socialist leader, complained that the government proposals constituted only half way reforms because in giving a voice to the bunderast in questions of war, peace, and treaties the people were deprived of being able to render the decision.

"After all," Bernstein added, "the Kaiser finally retains the reins and can impart a spirit to the army which is extremely dangerous for democracy. President Wilson refuses to negotiate with those at the head of affairs, and we must meet him if we desire peace."

A dispatch from Berlin says a proposal that President Wilson's note to Germany should not be discussed in the reichstag was adopted by that body at a meeting held on Friday. The conservatives and independent socialists voted against it.

W. Hohenzollern for President.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Emperor William has no intention of abdicating, but is willing, if it is for the good of the people, to ordain that his rights shall be refrained, according to a statement attributed to German court circles. The emperor is said to have remarked:

"I will not abandon my sorely tried people, but if necessary I am ready to become something like hereditary president of a German republic like the kings of England, Belgium, and Italy."

Japanese Red Cross Gives Roosevelt Honor Medal.

TOKYO, Oct. 28.—With the approval of the emperor, the Japanese Red Cross has awarded Col. Theodore Roosevelt a medal of honor.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—It is learned from official sources that the action of the Japanese Red Cross in awarding a medal of honor to Col. Roosevelt was in appreciation of a liberal allotment he made to the society in his distribution of the Nobel peace prize fund.

YULE LABELS

Red Cross to Give Boxes to Relatives Wanting to Send Christmas Gifts to Men Overseas.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—The first of the Christmas parcel labels, designed to facilitate the shipment of holiday boxes to the more than 2,000,000 soldiers now in France, have reached this country. In making this announcement today the Red Cross said relatives of soldiers now overseas probably will receive these labels in the course of a few days and should arrange to prepare the Christmas boxes without delay.

The boxes, with complete instructions regarding the articles which may be sent, may be obtained without charge at Red Cross chapters or branches after Nov. 1.

Only one package for each soldier will be accepted by the war department. Every man in the expeditionary forces has received one label and has been directed to send it to the person in the United States from whom he wishes to receive a Christmas parcel. Parcels that do not carry this label will not be accepted and none will be accepted for shipment after Nov. 29.

BATTLE STATEMENTS

AMERICAN REPORT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Gen. Pershing's report for today reads:

HEADQUARTERS AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Oct. 27.

On the Verdun front east of the Meuse our troops yesterday carried out a successful attack against the Bois Belleu. As a result of this operation the wood, which has been the scene of constant fighting since Oct. 25, is entirely in our hands. Further south lively combats are in progress in the eastern portion of the Bois d'Ormont. Artillery fire has been violent on the front from Bois de La Grande Montagne to the Bois de Caure.

West of the Meuse hostile elements, which attempted under cover of heavy shelling, to penetrate our positions north of Grand Pre, were repulsed by our machine gun fire.

In other sectors held by our troops the day was quiet.

DELAVER REPORT

HEADQUARTERS AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Oct. 27 (Sunday).

On the Verdun front east of the Meuse infantry and artillery fighting was in progress throughout the day in the region of the Bois Belleu. West of the Meuse there has been heavy artillery and machine gun fire south of Aincreville and north of the Aisne.

The improvement in the weather has made possible active aerial operations on the front of the First army. Our pursuit squadrons engaged the enemy in many combats, in the course of which thirteen enemy airplanes and five of our machines were shot down. Our bombing units dropped three and one-half tons of explosives on Briquenay.

HEADQUARTERS AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Oct. 28 (Saturday).

On the Verdun front yesterday evening the enemy extended to the west side of the Meuse his efforts to wrest from our troops the gains of the preceding days. In the region of Bantheville, after artillery preparation lasting half an hour, he attacked our positions between the Bois des Hayettes and the Bois de Bantheville. After sharp fighting he was repulsed with heavy losses, our line remaining everywhere unchanged. North of the Oise our troops have organized the ground won in yesterday's local attacks, in continuing with incessant severity, frequently rising to a pitch of extreme violence. On the entire front of twenty-five miles the enemy is opposing to our successful attacks a determined resistance, made necessary by the great importance to him of this sector and made possible only by the constant reinforcement of his hard pressed divisions.

Besides having inflicted on the en-

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—The war office statement today reads:

Northernmost of Deynze (Belgium), east of Avelgem, and near Artras, south of the Scheldt, we have repulsed enemy attacks. In clearing out isolated British nests near Farnars and Englefontaine we captured prisoners.

Enemy attempts to cross the Oise canal near Tulpigny were frustrated. Between the Oise and the Serre Saturday night we withdrew our troops in the projecting salient between Arigny and La Ferté to a line west of Guise and east of Oreey in the Serre. Yesterday the enemy attacked our new lines south of Guise. He was repulsed after losing numerous tanks. On the Couche sector renewed French attacks broke down early in the morning between Froidmont and Pierepont.

Enemy attacks against troops stationed on the south bank of the Aisne, southeast of Bethel and near Rilly (east of Attigny), were repulsed. On the heights east of Foudray in the evening the artillery duel increased intermittently to great strength in connection with an unsuccessful enemy attack east of Chastreaux.

On the heights east of the Meuse we repulsed attacks by the Americans at Conservoy wood and Ormont wood. The movements which have commenced were continued according to plan.

Southeastern theater.—South of Rudnik and Topla there were successful rear guard engagements. On both sides of the Morava there was only slight fighting contact with the enemy.

AUSTRIAN REPORT

VIENNA, Sunday, Oct. 27, via London, Oct. 28.—The official statement today reads:

Italian theater.—On the plateau of Sette Comuni the enemy yesterday again undertook a series of strong parry thrusts, which were all repulsed. Further attempts to attack failed under our defensive fire, and the enemy suffered heavy losses. In the mountains east of the Brenta the battle continued with undiminished intensity and the fight raged the whole day. In the region of Col Gargile the enemy suffered through our counter attacks the complete loss of the temporary advantage gained by him.

The Fourth division recaptured Monte Asolone by storm. Our battalions launched an attack against Monte Perica and succeeded during the evening in getting as far as the foot of Aupp, and during the night this also fell into our hands.

Repeated attempts of the Italians to extend their gains in the region of Fontana Secca were vain. Also, on the slopes of Montello, an intense bitterness of our brave troops prepared the same fate for the enemy attacks as on preceding occasions.

On the Piave the artillery duel continued yesterday. During the night, on both sides of Montello, an intense attack was launched on a large scale. At points where the enemy succeeded in reaching the left bank of the river bitter fighting is in progress.

Washington, D. C. said Wilson replied to an opposition that the fourteen peace terms were "plain," by explaining the removal of economic sanctions to suggest an internal economic policy that whatever tariff action might deem as equally to all nations. The president also sent a letter to Senator North Carolina chairman Smathers commending "Weapons of economic punishment," the sanctions be left to the nations for the purpose of those who will promote a general program of "peace."

He added that to the free trade, which is the basis, was to attempt to bring the nation from a state of durable peace.

—The President

"Dear senator: I respond to the question of your letter of October 1, 1938, which was used in my address of Jan. 8, 1938, where I said, 'As far as possible, we will endeavor to establish and the establishment of equality of trade conditions between the nations consenting to the trade and tariff maintenance.'"

"I, of course, mean restriction upon the free trade policy of any nation of the world, but only that which any nation might desire to impose upon its own economic service, high or low; it should not be imposed upon all foreign nations; in fact, there should be no restriction upon some nations."

[illegible]

It was with that principle in my mind that I convert this great principle into a purpose, and to improve trade, which is not to attempt to divert attention from the broad principle of a durable peace, by an internal quarrel of another kind.

RIDES IN TANKS AS DID GRANDFATHER BESIDE REVERE

William Dawes Wins Fame
by Duties with the British.

BY CHARLES N. WHEELER.
(SPECIAL CABLES TO CHICAGO TRIBUNE.)

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(Delayed.)—The Dawes family still has a corner on famous rides. William M. Dawes rode with Paul Revere.

Second Lieutenant William M. Dawes, a great-grandson of the revolutionary hero, rode over the top of the other day in a fighting tank in one of the most sanguinary battles in which the tanks have figured.

Lieut. Dawes is the son of Rufus C. Dawes of Evansville and a nephew of Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes. Fighting in an American unit assigned to the British army, young Dawes distinguished himself. His tank was struck twice, but he kept on moving down the Hun machine gunners and brought his machine back to his own lines.

All Dawes Are Agreed.
Now all the Dawes are in the army in France, and there, many of them agreed that their great-grandfather's ride was a job affair compared to the exploit of Lieut. Dawes with his tank. They also point out that, while the great-grandfather fought against the British, the great-grandson fought with them and for them against the Hun.

Lieut. Dawes has been in the fighting in France for sixteen months. He came over in the ambulance service to get into it. Since he has been with the engineers, artillery, and machine gunners, and has volunteered as a tank fighter.

Seeks to Avoid Promotion.
About this time he was promoted from sergeant to second lieutenant, and he wanted to turn down the promotion, as he was afraid it would take him out of the tank unit.
But he got his chance and did so well that he was given a second chance, making two trips over the top and each time doing distinguished work.

The young lieutenant has a brother, Charles C. Dawes, his brother, is attending an artillery officers' training school in France.

All Men Within 45 Not to Be Called by Jan. 1

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—The war department does not plan to call all men within the draft-up to 45 years by Jan. 1, Secretary Baker said today in discussing press dispatches crediting John E. Mott, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with saying that he had been so informed by Mr. Baker. "I am sure Mr. Mott has been misinformed," said the secretary. "There is no such plan."

WILSON'S POLITICAL DYNASTY PLAN UPSETS SENATE

this floor the preposterous suggestion that the Senate ratify in advance what might be the will of the chief executive," said Senator Knox. "A few days ago the country was astounded to find that chief executive calling for the election of Democratic senators and representatives precisely in order that his individual authority should be untrammelled by counsel. I pass by the unjust, not to say outrageous, implications of that unique document of partisan politics. That the two proposals should associate themselves in one's mind is a regret to say, due to the promiscuity of some senators and representatives to make themselves mere registrars of the will of the chief executive."

Why Ask Kähler to Abolish?

"When there is talk of the abolition of the Kaiser, it is a peculiar moment to propose that the American people should abdicate their right to have opinions, or that the Senate and House should abdicate their sworn and independent duties."

"I ask senators whether it is the will of the American people or the will of Woodrow Wilson that is to determine the policy of the United States in the two matters of ending this war and founding a future peace. I ask them whether they propose to subject the vital interests of the American people to their independent judgment or whether they are content, for their convenience and, I believe, to be the mere registrars of the will of one man. This is the issue before us. The abdication of their constitutional duties, of independent judgment by the Senate or by the House, spells autocracy. No man so low."

Criticism Changing Policies.

The former secretary of state spoke sarcastically of President Wilson's frequent changes of policy.

"During the period from 1914 until today, senators will remember, the president has expressed, and always in the same solemn emphasis, the most varied variety of ideas and attitudes upon the nature of the war, and what is now most in point—upon the terms upon which America is willing to live at peace with Germany and with the world. I do not think we want to make any part of Turkey's province secure."

Hitchcock-Penrose Debate.

Here the debate turned again to free trade and the president's tariff views. "Do I understand the senator from Nebraska to say that the determination of an American tariff is an international matter?" demanded Senator Penrose.

"No, sir, not at all; quite the opposite," replied Mr. Hitchcock. "An American tariff is a matter for an American congress. But the use of the term as a hostile war measure is a matter for the league of nations."

"Then I understand that the league of nations is to have some kind of a right to pass upon whether an American tariff is suitable to all nations or not," commented Senator Penrose.

"Not at all," replied Senator Hitchcock.

"I ask the question in entire good faith," insisted Mr. Penrose. "Will the senator enlighten me as to this point? Under the president's economic theory when peace among the nations of the world is declared would the United States have the right to make a more favorable economic agreement with the allies than with Germany?"

"The United States would have the right to make any tariff it pleased against the whole world," answered Mr. Hitchcock. "But if the treaty is made and Great Britain, France, and Italy and our other associates agree to it it would come with greater propriety at a later date, and we certainly cannot be expected to criticize every day presidential utterances or we would do nothing else."

Lodge's Opinion of Notes.

Senator Lodge interrupted to refer to President Wilson's note to Austria with which he said he was in full sympathy.

"In that note the president said, referring to one of the fourteen points that times had changed since that was written," said Senator Lodge; "that he had recognized the Czech-Slovaks, etc., and he was quite right. Times have changed. Is the president the only person to whom times have changed? Is he alone to have the right to change his mind? He exercises it freely. I never intended the message. I said it in the able manner, I took pains the other day, when I was speaking, to say some of the fourteen points I agreed with. I do agree with some of them. I agree with the one about Poland; it is definite; I disagreed from the beginning utterly with the one about Turkey, which proposes as the thing that should make secure the property of Turkey over the Ottoman Turks. I do not think we want to make any part of Turkey's province secure."

Senator Lodge continued to free trade and the president's tariff views. "Do I understand the senator from Nebraska to say that the determination of an American tariff is an international matter?" demanded Senator Penrose.

"No, sir, not at all; quite the opposite," replied Mr. Hitchcock. "An American tariff is a matter for an American congress. But the use of the term as a hostile war measure is a matter for the league of nations."

BASES PLEA FOR GERMAN VOTES ON HIS NATIONALITY

Asks to German voters of the Eighth district to send a man of their own nationality to represent them in the Senate in part of the campaign literature being circulated by J. W. Penrose. Penrose is a Democratic candidate for representative from the district, which includes Lake, Boone and McHenry counties. His appeal follows:

"Dear friend: I ask you for your support at the Nov. 5 election, and I appeal to you on the condition that we have a chance to send a man of our own nationality to the legislature for the first time in the history of McHenry, Lake and Boone counties."

"We have always supported men of other nationalities before, why not support a man once of our own nationality? Are we not as much entitled, as other nationalities to a public office? Why not?"

"I invite you to investigate my past record and assure you that it is equal to any of my opponents for this office and therefore our nationality must be served first in order to be represented in the offices of our government, as do other nationalities."

"Therefore I also ask you to help me with your influence among your neighbors and friends as men of other nationalities have done for men of their nationality."

"Thanking you in advance for whatever you do for me and therefore for our nationality, I remain,
Yours truly,
J. W. Penrose, McHenry, Ill."

BEING ACCUSED TO CHICAGO.
S. H. Dodson, alleged Oklahoma land faker, was returned to Chicago yesterday by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—There will be no coal famine the coming winter, or even an approach to the hardships of last winter, Fuel Administrator Garfield announced today, but the public must continue to cooperate with the fuel administration in conservation measures, as far more coal is needed now than in normal times.

Pinning Him Down.
"Including Germany," asked Senator Penrose.

"Any nation," replied Mr. Hitchcock. "Then Germany goods," said Mr. Penrose, "would come in on the same equality as those of the allies who have fought and bled with us."

"That does not follow," returned Mr. Hitchcock.

"It comes very near following," replied Mr. Penrose. "I am glad I smoked the senator out."

"The league of nations, if it is formed," said Senator Hitchcock, "and the United States agrees and the allies agree to its formation would take jurisdiction over the question of a hostile tariff to discipline a nation."

Pinckney Hits Partisan Plan.
Senator Pinckney reviewed the president's change of mind on broad policies and condemned the president's appeal for a Democratic congress.

"The charge that the Republicans have not supported the president in carrying on the war in the most vigorous fashion cannot be established by the record," said Senator Pinckney. "They have given their vote, and what more can be said? They have given their all for their native land. To attempt to pervert the people's sacrifice and devotion for a great national cause."

JUGGLE HUNDRED BILLION IN OLD 'PORK BARREL'

Democratic Congress Refuses to Install Business System.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

SIXTH ARTICLE.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Sixty billion dollars in the measure of the appropriations by congress for the first two years of the war. Forty billion or so more will be faced by congress next month for the year 1920.

America's appropriations for the first two years of war will pass the $100,000,000,000 mark.

One hundred billion dollars is the estimate in two-thirds of the total of the United States, yet in handling these staggering sums congress, led by the nose by the southern democracy, insists on retaining the old "pork barrel" system with its absolute disregard of the simplest business principles.

Don't get the idea that the war will cost $100,000,000,000 in three years. It will be nothing like that amount. The total includes loans to our allies and the covering of our favorable balance of trade.

In war times, too, appropriations are made at a rate much faster than the country can produce the goods.

$37,000,000,000 Spent in 2 Years.
For the first two years of war the appropriations will be $60,000,000,000, but the amount actually expended for the war will not be over $37,000,000,000, the experts say.

For the first year of war $21,000,000,000 were appropriated, but the total payments for the year, including loans, rose to $12,500,000,000. Leaving out the loans the government actually spent but $3,000,000,000.

But the democratic congress in dealing with these appalling sums sticks to the old list and miss method of committee finance among twenty-nine different committees, the grand old "pork barrel" system.

Republicans Favor Budget.
Congressman Madell McCormick last month submitted a budget plan. It is a scheme to put the finances of the nation upon a modern business basis. Fifty other nations have such a system, and if the Republicans gain control of congress on Nov. 5, one vital thing they propose is to change the financial methods at the capitol, so that America's money affairs will be run not by any bank or great commercial institution manages its business. Any bank that ran on such haphazard lines as these now followed by congress would howl up overnight.

In making the great constructive improvement of Gov. Lowden has been the consolidation of governmental activities. It is based, of course, on the budget plan and recently Gov. Lowden reported on the new system. "Without consolidation it would not have been

Two and a half million dollars greater than those of the United States for the first two years of war. How much of the difference in appropriations is due to the fact that France and Britain handle all their funds through a scientific budget system?

Analyze the Appropriations.
Senator Reed Smoot, who is regarded as perhaps the ablest financier in the United States senate, analyzed today the appropriations for the first two years and how much of it will actually go for war purposes. He is an advocate of a modern system of financing.

"Of approximately $82,000,000,000 appropriated for the first two years," said Senator Smoot, "the expenditures will be about $35,000,000,000, including loans, and of this about $27,000,000,000 is what will be spent directly on the war in the first two years."

"The direct appropriations for the fiscal year 1919 will amount, in round numbers, to $26,577,575,000, and in connection with the direct appropriations there are authorized appropriations for the fiscal year of $9,421,000,000, making the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, $35,998,575,000."

$5,000,000,000 More for Allies.
"That does not take into account what we may advance to our allies; and if we advance to them about $5,000,000,000—approximately the same as we loaned them during the fiscal year 1918—the amount required by the government for the next fiscal year would approximate $41,298,575,000, provided it was possible for the government to secure the goods appropriated for."

"Let me point out just what our expenditures amounted to for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918, despite the size of the appropriations made for that year:

Our ordinary expenses were $7,844,425,517
Interest on public debt was 259,729,571
We paid on support loans 10,420,000
We paid on support loans 10,420,000
We purchased obligations of foreign governments

DANIELS CALLS G. O. P. BACKERS JUNKERS OF U. S.

Elect Democrats, He Says in Attack on Wilson's Foes.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—"Will the junkers of America be allowed to undo the great achievements of the Wilson administration?" Secretary Daniels asked in an address here today, urging the election of a Democratic congress.

The forces of privilege, the secretary said, in the last days before election were making their strength to elect a Republican congress.

Thinking of Profit.
"These American junkers," he declared, "are not thinking about the war, but they are thinking what will happen after the war. Their supreme aim is to seize the arteries of commerce for their own enrichment, to wipe out taxing laws that touch swollen incomes, and replace it by a tax that burdens the laborer, and to repeal or to emasculate the great measures of social justice which are the glory of the Wilson administration."

"If they can elect a Republican congress to tie the hands of the president, the fruits of what has already been gained in legislation and the larger measures for national development for the good of all will be lost."

Issue Is Domestic.
The issue raised is a domestic one, the secretary added, as the American junkers know that President Wilson's fourteen demands as a peace basis voice America's and the world's aspirations.

"Would-be profiteers in war, junkers who oppose all measures of social justice, will not be easily routed," he concluded. "They have already, in the closing days of this campaign, sent out the call and invoked the contributions and aid of men who think in terms of dollars and government by privilege."

Cannot Blind Business Men.
"Though last year we purchased a little less than $5,000,000,000 of such obligations, we provide for the full fiscal year 1919 only $2,000,000,000, and we all know that amount will be insufficient, and as soon as congress meets in December, or shortly thereafter, we shall have to pass another bill increasing the amount at least $3,000,000,000. We should have done it at once and let the American people understand exactly what they have to meet. I think it is far better to do that than to pass legislation piecemeal. This way of legislating is not going to blind the eyes of the business men of the country until after the election."

"Right here I want to say that the business men of the country do not object to high taxation provided it is necessary to prosecute the war vigorously. They are perfectly willing to meet high tax rates during the war; what they object to is that the present revenue laws are discriminatory and impose taxes unjustly upon one business and allow another of similar character to escape."

MEASURES OF PRECAUTION AGAINST INFLUENZA

When you have Influenza, the first thing to do is to go to bed and call a doctor.

In order not to contract it, there are certain common-sense precautions which you owe to yourself and your family.

Health Board Instructions on Influenza, when boiled down, mean:

Keep dry!
Keep warm!
Keep clean—inside and out!

In other words, put yourself into the best condition to repel the attacks of air-borne germs.

Fully ninety per cent. of infection is taken into the system through the mouth and nose. These are the first breeding places of most germs. It is of the greatest importance that micro-organisms be destroyed or made innocuous at the Port of Entry. Keeping the teeth clean alone does not do it. The whole mouth, the throat and the nasal passages should receive proper treatment.

Of all the things readily available and easily applied, Kolynos performs these offices best. The formula of Kolynos Dental Cream contains the following:

Oil of Eucalyptus	Benzoic Acid	Alcohol
Oil of Peppermint	Saccharine	Chalk
Thymol	Glycerine	Soap

It was the open publication of the Kolynos formula which from the first gained the confidence of dentists and physicians, and led them to so largely recommend it.

Protective Measures:

Use Kolynos Dental Cream, during times of epidemic, at least three times daily. Apply with a dry brush, and brush not only the teeth, but reach every part of the mouth, including the tongue.

Gargle the throat with the foam produced by this brushing.

In this way you will not omit any part of the oral cavity.

At the first sign of a cold, place a small amount of the dental cream—about half the size of a pea—in the entrance of each nostril, when retiring, and several times during the day.

Additional Precautions:

If your throat is dry or inflamed, or if you have been exposed to infection, gargle with a twenty-five per cent. solution of Kolynos Liquid, which has the same properties as Kolynos Dental Cream, but in a higher degree.

If you are obliged to go where there is infection, place a pellet of cotton, wet with Kolynos Liquid, full strength, in each nostril.

This filters the air you breathe and, at the same time, carries into the nasal passages, bronchial tubes and lungs the highly volatile ingredients, which have a distinct germicidal action.

Those exposed to infection should, also, frequently spray their mouths and throats with Kolynos Liquid. A generally acceptable strength for this spraying is equal parts of Kolynos Liquid and water.

Kolynos preparations are in no sense recommended as a cure for Influenza, but should be looked on solely as common-sense and scientific pre-cautionary agents.

Organizations of All Kinds Favor Holding Convention.

Chicago's representative civic and business organizations, backed up by 100 per cent of the corporate associations of business and professional men, are now on the firing line for a "Yes" vote for the constitutional convention.

The Illinois Manufacturers' association, representing substantially all of the manufacturing industries of the city, came through yesterday with unqualified endorsement of the measure.

Bulletin is Issued.

The Citizens' Association of Chicago issued a special bulletin, putting up to the voters essential reasons why the state should take advantage of the only real chance to get ready for the war conditions.

The Illinois State Federation of Labor, already have taken the initiative in holding up the merits of the proposition.

The absolutely necessary changes in the existing constitutional provisions are of vital importance to the state and women of our organization represents the gist of the position of organized labor.

AID GOOD ROADS

Leading Citizens Appeal for Votes for Bond Issue.

LEADERS of commercial, agricultural, labor, religious, and automobile organizations throughout Illinois joined with Gov. Lowden last night in a formal statement urging support of the $60,000,000 good roads bond issue at the election a week from today.

The statement says in part: "One of the most important questions ever submitted to the voters of the state is the good roads proposition on the little ballot. There is a double incentive to public support of the proposition—the general good to the state from a businesslike method of road building and the special assistance to industry and labor after the war."

WOMEN FIGHTING "WRETCHED" CAR SERVICE IN CITY

Reports Indicate They Will Vote Largely for Ordinance.

Scores of letters and telephone messages were received yesterday by the women's advisory committee of the citizens' committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, premising hearty support of the new traction ordinance, which is to be passed on by the voters at next Tuesday's election.

Mrs. D. Harry Hammer, president of the Illinois Colony club and a resident of the Third ward, said: "The women of Chicago certainly don't want to put up with wretched transportation any longer. Endurance has become a cowardly condition of subjection. Let us rise and throw the discomfort and dangers encountered every time we use the present insufficient methods given by the traction ordinance."

Not Endless Making.

"Hanging on a strap doesn't make for efficiency in women who have to work all day," said Mrs. Joseph T. Returning Soldier-Workmen Will Demand Decent Homes

THOUSANDS of factory workers will return to their places in America's industrial army when a proper peace has been concluded. These men will come home changed. The well-ordered, healthful routine of military life will have given them a new attitude towards living conditions. Braving death day after day, for a principle, will have strengthened their character. Having risked their lives to make the world a better place to live in, they will certainly demand that they and their families get no less than that for which they fought. Insanitary, uncomfortable, unsightly hovels and tenements will not appeal to them.

Manufacturers! It Is Up to You to Provide Decent Homes for Workers!

STUDENTS of world trade predict that, following the war, American industry will be face to face with the greatest opportunity for foreign and domestic trade that it has ever had.

Depleted home stocks, a tremendous demand from abroad, the complete disintegration of Germany's trade, and the wiping out of all formerly-existent trade lines—these will supply the incentive.

The manufacturer who can secure and hold an efficient, loyal, cheerful organization is the one who will win.

Those who observe sociological conditions say that the return of peace will be the beginning of serious social unrest. Skilled labor will be hard to retain, they say.

Not a few far-seeing manufacturers are now preparing for their employees modern, bright, healthful homes, situated close to the factories, yet desirably located. In most instances these modern homes are being sold, at cost and on easy terms, to the employees.

By such means these manufacturers are killing, with one stroke, the main enemy of contentment and steadiness among their employees. And they are, with the same stroke, establishing a sound basis for loyalty and good-will toward themselves.

Gordon-Van Tine Company has had wide experience in the results to be derived from the policy indicated. At the present time we are carrying out extensive contracts for a number of large manufacturing concerns in different parts of the country.

This experience cannot but be of great value to any manufacturer who, comparing the present and the future, realizes that he must extend his interest in his employees farther than the pay envelope.

Gordon-Van Tine Service Based on Wide Experience—Yours for the Asking

WRITE now, today, and put your industrial housing problem squarely up to us. Let us give you the benefit of what we have learned from actual experience. If your factory is devoted to war work it is probable that the Government will permit immediate building operations. Otherwise, you should be prepared to go ahead the moment the restrictions are lifted. Being fully informed on how to proceed does not obligate you in any sense.

"Housing Labor" is the title of a valuable book, well-bound and plainly printed, which gives the meat of this question that is to become so momentous. This book was written by men who know what they talk about—written with brevity and simplicity. It will appeal to any manufacturer who is a student of his own business and of business generally.

Gordon-Van Tine Company will be glad to forward a copy of "Housing Labor" to any manufacturer who requests it on his business stationery.

ALCOCK MAKES GAMBLING HARD TO FIND IN LOOP

Police Captains Warned to Clean Up Districts or Face Trial.

Every police captain who fails to clean up gambling in his district is warning a hearing before the police board.

This was the direct tip that Acting Chief of Police Alcock sent out to his commanding officers yesterday. As a result there was less bookmaking business during the day than for many months, according to the loop wise.

Information ran to the effect that some of the outside districts it was possible to bet on horse races, but extra precautions were taken and strict orders were not welcome in cigar stores and pool rooms that have reported bookmaking connections.

"Bookies" Get Continuance.

The chief's new declaration that it was time to the finish on the gambling in the loop was the direct tip that Acting Chief of Police Alcock sent out to his commanding officers yesterday. As a result there was less bookmaking business during the day than for many months, according to the loop wise.

The defendants are planning their fight in the future upon the decision of Judge Baraga, who in setting Nov. 14 for a hearing announced that at that time he would give an opinion on what constitutes gambling. He warned the attorneys on both sides that he expected to take up the subject in an exhaustive manner and suggested that they be ready with briefs.

"Jail for Them All."

Chief Alcock's only comment upon the troubles of the men who had been sent for two nights in the noisome cells of the police station despite the efforts of a judge to obtain their release was:

"I'll be jail for them all, high and low. If the bookmaking game isn't stopped, every pinch will mean a cell, and I'm especially after the higher ups in the gambling business. They all look alike to us. There will be no 'do-dos' or cushions for any of them that we take.

"These fellows are just as bad as the stickup men. They lie in wait for their victims and take their cash away from them in the same way.

Liable to Two Charges.

The gamblers can be prosecuted for gambling and on vagrancy laws, and it's the duty of every com-

DEFINED!

Meaning of "Engineer" Now Made Clear by Corps of Engineers Backed by U. S. Government.

The "indefinable" has been defined. With official government backing the answer to "What is an engineer?"—hitherto a matter of squabbling between authors of text books, encyclopedias, and dictionaries—has been handed down.

Here it is:

ENGINEER—One who economically directs man power and by scientific design utilizes the forces and materials of nature for the benefit of mankind.

War's necessities made an authoritative definition imperative. Constant conflict was arising in government endeavors as to what qualified an engineer. The result was that A. H. Krom, director of engineering of the United States employment service, set out to find the answer.

Collaborating with him were C. E. Drayner, secretary of the American Association of Engineers; W. W. De Beard, director of engineering of the United States employment service, set out to find the answer. Collaborating with him were C. E. Drayner, secretary of the American Association of Engineers; W. W. De Beard, director of engineering of the United States employment service, set out to find the answer.

The definition was a war necessity and is not intended as a throwing down of the gauntlet to the engineering profession," Mr. Krom explained. "The trouble has been that every man who handles an engine thinks he is an engineer. Then there has been nothing to distinguish the scientific engineer from the practical engineer. This definition, we believe, clearly establishes the status of an engineer and should result in much good."

manding officer to keep proper tabs on those in his district and see that they are prosecuted."

Assistant State's Attorney J. J. Vinterna yesterday sought vagrancy warrants against two of the ten defendants released at the South Clark street station. They are Harry Trau, 119 South Clark street, and Roy Shumway, 268 West Madison street. Judge Baraga said the police information against the men was insufficient to issue warrants on.

"Frequent Loser" Gives Tip.

A man who over the telephone identified himself as a frequent loser notified the office of the second deputy last night there was a large poker game in the room of Harry M. De Silva at the New Southern hotel, Michigan boulevard and Thirteenth street. The police raided the room and five men were arrested.

They confiscated poker chips, cards, and $99 which they said were on the table. At the South Clark street station De Silva was charged with being the keeper of a gambling resort.

The police visited the Astor hotel, where Francis C. Friss, a broker's clerk, said he lost $18,000 shooting craps, but found no gambling.

"Carroll Charlie's" game at the Union hotel also was found closed down.

BRIDEWELL DOPE RING UNCOVERED; 'QUEEN' TRAPPED

Band Uses Name of U. S.

Official to Get Drug to Inmates.

A well organized "dope ring," with a woman as one of its leaders, through which prisoners in the house of correction had obtained morphine, was broken up by Supt. John Siman last night following a confession made by the "gang queen" before United States Commissioner Lewis F. Mason.

Within the prison walls were found three members of the gang, all prisoners who had been assigned to "rusty" work. Two were telephone switchboard operators and a third a "runner." It was discovered that, with the aid of outside members of the gang, they had been operating for several months, and considerable quantities of drugs are believed to have found their way into the prison.

The inquiry started a month ago, when Supt. Siman called Commissioner Mason on the telephone.

How Plot Was Uncovered.

"I wish you wouldn't send so many people out here with orders that they be permitted to visit my dope friends," the superintendent said. "It isn't a good thing."

"I haven't sent out a person with such an order," replied the commissioner.

Then an inquiry was started. First results came when Mrs. Mary Mansfield, 508 North State street, showed up at the bridewell to visit her husband, Jimmy. As Jimmy had "the habit," he was open to suspicion as she was searched. A quantity of morphine was found secreted in her clothing.

Carrying deductions further the superintendent remembered how attentive the little woman, barely in her twenties, had been to Albert Rex, a trusty, who acted as a runner. Rex was grilled and admitted having received "dope" from the woman.

Ordered by Phone.

Then there was the problem of how "orders" for drugs got outside the prison walls and it was deduced that the telephone was a plausible means.

"Jack" Foley and Edward Corrigan, two "trusties," who had been assigned as switchboard operators, were confronted by the woman and Rex and again came more confessions.

When arraigned before Commissioner Mason yesterday the "gang queen" said telephone orders came from the prison to her and "Whitey" Christensen, a dope peddler, who is being hunted, and that she carried it to the place after an importer representing himself as Commissioner Mason had called the bridewell superintendent or had written a fake order. Mrs. Mansfield was held under $2,500 bonds.

'KID' WEIL GIVES COURT TASTE OF 'CON' OPERATION

Forces Trial of Himself on 'Dead' Charge by Legal Craft.

The "Yellow Kid" yesterday reached out and grasped the hand of fate, gave her the sticklers' grip and presto! Court rules disappeared and oratorical prosecutors were seized with dumbness, while the pale smiled and whispered, "Ain't he a wonder?"

Joseph Weil, tired of his recent drab life of just one indictment after another, decided yesterday to carry his "confidence" tactics into the courts. In true alchemist form he put himself on trial in the Criminal court—on a charge that Prosecutor Hoynes and his aids didn't want to try at this time.

Old Case on Call.

Through some error, when Judge Marcus Kavanagh recently set the strongest case which the state has against Weil for trial on Nov. 1, one old case against him was left on the call of Judge Guerin. It was reached yesterday morning and Judge Guerin ruled that the case would either have to go to trial at once as demanded by Weil and his attorneys, or be dismissed.

"The rules of the court provide that where a court sets the case of a defendant for trial, all other cases against him shall be sent to that court," Assistant State's Attorney Charles C. Case protested. "Judge Kavanagh already has set one case against this man for Nov. 1. It is the strongest case we have against him and we want to try it rather than this action, which is five years old, and which has been heard once by a jury which disagreed."

Must Comply with Law.

"The constitution must be complied with," the judge said. "This case must either be tried or dismissed. This case is five years old and it is not right that an indictment should be held over a man's head for that length of time without giving him a trial."

"The defendants in this case could have asked for a trial long ago," Assistant State's Attorney E. J. Rabast said.

The judge then asked again if Weil wanted an immediate trial and he said he did and the court ordered a jury summoned. When court adjourned eight men had been selected. It is expected the hearing of the testimony will be started this morning.

Three Defendants Goad.

Weil and a man named J. D. Searley were the only two present of five defendants named on the indictment, which charges a $5,000 swindle through a fake prize fight. Concerning the other three the court was told that Charles Forbes is dead, that John H. Strensdorfer is in the penitentiary, and that Tom Graham long since furnished his bonds. George Larson and Arthur McNally are the complainants.

MORRISON FILES AN AFFIDAVIT.

Edward W. Morrison, the "millionaire millionaire," through his attorney, James E. Ford, has filed a bond for $5,000 to be paid in the event of a conviction by the jury, against the Morrison estate.

OFFICIALS RAISE FLU QUARANTINE AT CAMP GRANT

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., Oct. 28.—

(Special.)—Medical authorities today officially raised the quarantine on Camp Grant, giving the public free access to the army city, effective tomorrow, but tampered the measure to protect men in training by issuing orders against public gatherings in camp recreation buildings until Nov. 1.

Soldiers, beginning tomorrow, will enjoy the same furlough and leave privileges that existed before the quarantine was put into effect.

"TRIBUNE" READ TO PIECES AT THE BATTLE FRONT

Robert M. Switzer has received letters from his nephews, Sergt. Walter and Leon Switzer, both of whom are fighting in France. Leon is with the United States marines. He is only 17 years old. When he enlisted he gave his age as 20. He was in the thick of the fighting at Soissons and Chateau Thierry, and has gone over the top five times.

His brother Walter writes: "I started to receive The Chicago Tribune and it comes through all right, as it is wrapped in a separate package. Please continue the subscription until the end of the war. It puts me into a fellow to read his home paper. When I am through with The Tribune I give it to the other boys from Chicago. After it has passed through the hands of twenty-five or thirty it is in tatters."

The Switzer brothers reside at 3525 Lexington street.

On St. Helena

Napoleon was his own Barber

RIGHT to the end at St. Helena, Napoleon kept his fastidious liking for a smooth chin. Bourienne, his biographer, says that he shaved himself with singular dexterity, one valet holding the glass, another the towel.

The greatest of all war strategists was so proud of his razors that he stipulated in his will that his splendid silver shaving set must be delivered, on his death, to his son, the King of Rome. How much more pleased Bonaparte would have been if he could have added to these beautiful razors the convenience and safety of the

NOW THEN! Everybody—SING!

We're on our way to Germany
Keep a Yankee tank
To give the bloody Hun a drink
Of stuff they never drink
We'll put their forty years of fight
Just forty feet below
Come on, boys, get on your tanks
And let's begin the show.

(Taken from "Treat 'Em Rough," the monthly magazine of the Tank Corps, U. S. A.)

We'll crash on through to victory
And down the rotten Hun
Right straight across the German land
Our good old tanks will pound
We'll ride right through barbed wire and gas
We'll chase Fritz from his lair
We'll drive the tanks to Berlin, boys
Before another year.

Are You the Man?

Do you want to get into this fight right? Want to get some sure enough scrappin'? Have you got real American red blood in your veins, with a fist on the end of each of your arms, instead of a mitt or a paw?

The Tank Corps is the highest branch of service in the United States Army. Volunteers only. Officers come up right from the ranks and every man has an equal chance. Merit is the only thing that counts. Size doesn't make much difference—we take 'em thin and tall, round and small. What we want is the ability to think quick and act quicker, a love for whirling gears and purring engines, and an ambition to carry on over there.

If you're in earnest—if you honestly want to see ACTION—Uncle Sam's got a reserved seat for you right up in the bald-head row of the biggest show on earth. Here is the chance that brave men beg for. Here is the opportunity to LEAD the United States Army. If you've got the nerve, the grit, the spunk—if you deserve to be out in front where things happen and happen fast—

TO COURTTERS: BE CAREFUL OR FACE THE JUDGE!

Being a Couple of Incidents of the Day in Morals Court.

Policeman Andrew J. Carroll walked into a flat on Warren avenue early Sunday morning and arrested two girls and three young men who were calling there.

"What were they doing?" asked Judge W. E. Cook in Morals court yesterday morning.

"Sitting in chairs."

"Were they clothed?"

"Yes."

"Were they sober?"

"Yes. They said they didn't live there, though."

Dismissed—No Evidence.

"Defendants discharged," said the court. "This is no evidence of a disorderly house."

Nona Harrison, landlady, had a call in her room in South State street.

There was nothing out of the way there, either, and the court said:

"We are going to have our hands full if the police continue to interrupt every little Saturday evening party like this."

Woman Sues for $10,000.

Judge Cook, Health Commissioner Robertson, and physicians at the isolation hospital were sued for $10,000 damages yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth Wolf, 144 North Ashland avenue.

Proceedings were started in the Superior court by Attorney Thomas W. Johnson.

Mrs. Wolf was arrested last week and taken to the hospital for a blood test. A placard bearing the words "Contagious Disease" was placed on her home by order of the health department. She was examined under protest, as she claimed that tests by a private physician showed no evidence of disease.

M. E. MINISTERS OPPOSE SCULLY AND A. J. CERMAK

Methodist ministers at a meeting yesterday in the First Methodist Episcopal church unanimously passed resolutions calling for the defeat of Anton J. Scully, candidate for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, and Judge Thomas P. Scully, candidate for reelection as county judge.

Cermak was denounced for being allied with the United Societies, which it was charged stand for the continuance of the liquor traffic.

Judge Scully was criticized for the appointment of wet members of the board of election commissioners, and with an unfair attitude toward the dry Chicago petition last February.

Other resolutions commended Dr. John Dill Robertson for his services in connection with the influenza epidemic, and Acting Chief of Police Alcock for refusing to admit to bail arrested gamblers when no court was in session to issue a legal order.

Dr. Robertson called on the phone to inquire why the Methodists were holding a meeting when all of the other ministry associations had not met because of the influenza. In reply the secretary, the Rev. C. D. King, promised the meeting would adjourn at once, which it did.

"There was a misunderstanding, or the meeting would not have been held at all," said Mr. King. "Part of the ministers were notified, but others were not."

MILITARY TINGE AT FUNERAL OF ELLA F. YOUNG

Educator's Services for Country Recognized in Ceremony.

Brief but impressive was the funeral service yesterday for Mrs. Ella F. Young, former superintendent of the Chicago public schools, who died in Washington fighting for the success of the fourth Liberty loan. The ceremony was semi-military in character.

Slightly more than 100 of her old friends were gathered about the grave as Mrs. Young's body was lowered into its last resting place at Rosehill cemetery. Because of the epidemic of influenza this was the only service.

"Child of Chicago in the best sense, the city is all the better for her having lived and worked here," said the Rev. John Timothy Stone of the Fourth Presbyterian church, who preached the funeral sermon.

Military Escort.

The train which brought the body of Mrs. Young from Washington to Chicago was met at the Baltimore and Ohio station by friends of the former school superintendent and by the Nineteenth depot company, Illinois reserve militia, under command of Capt. J. C. Mannerud, which accompanied the funeral party from the station to the cemetery. Instead of going to the cemetery by train, as had been planned, the mourners went to Rosehill in automobiles.

The body was borne to the grave from the hearse by J. E. Armstrong, Ernest E. Cole, William M. Roberts, and H. H. Allinson, assistant superintendents of schools, and Orville T. Bright, H. G. Clark, H. M. Hilt, J. H. Stube, C. D. Lowry, and J. M. Simmon, district superintendents.

Educators Pay Tribute.

Members of the school board, Supt. Peter A. Mortenson, and representatives of the various teachers' and principals' organizations were present. The Chicago Liberty loan committee was represented by Miss Grace Dixon, chairman of the woman's division.

The city hall and the rooms of the Chicago board of education have been draped in black.

INDICT BERGER AND 50 OTHERS

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 28.—Victor L. Berger and four others prominent in the Socialist party were included in more than fifty indictments recently returned by the federal grand jury, it was announced today.

The others included E. T. Melms and Oscar Ameringer, candidates for congress, and Louis Arnold of the state legislature.

The indictments charge that they conspired to aid men to avoid selective service, sent mailer through the mail in violation of the espionage act, published articles in foreign languages without filing translations, made speeches and used the publication known as the Voice of the People to urge persons liable to military service to fail to respond.

They were released on their own recognizance.

HELD AS FOREST FIRE SUSPECT

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 28.—The first arrest resulting from a state investigation of the recent Minnesota forest fire was announced here today by C. Louis Weeks, state insurance commissioner. J. R. Peters of Carson Lake was taken into custody on a charge of setting a fire in the woods. Weeks declared that Peters could not give any satisfactory reason for starting the blaze. The state insurance commissioner estimated that the property loss alone from the forest fire totaled between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The Chicago Opera Association this year will tender every possible advantage to the holders of Season Ticket Seats. This is as it should be, because it is your definite support of your Opera Company that has made it possible for Chicago to attain to a high fame in the musical circles of the world.

First—Season Ticket Patrons will never find themselves crowded out of any other performances they wish to attend in addition to their regular night. The Box Office will be open to them one day in advance of the Public throughout the Season so that they will also be able to purchase seats for any additional performances they may select.

Second—Season Ticket Patrons will never be obliged to stand in line or get into the crowded jam at the Box Office for a Gala Night. When you wish extra seats, all you will have to do is to pick up your telephone and call up the Management and the best available seats in the house will be set aside.

And third, but not least, Season Ticket Holders will not only get the best seats in the house by purchasing now, but on Main Floor Seats they will get ten performances for the price of nine. And this, when you are purchasing several Season Tickets, amounts to a real money saving.

Scale of Prices
Boxes (Thirteen Performances) $500.00 W. T. $50
Main Floor (Ten Performances) $45.00 W. T. $4.50

A wonderful Season is in preparation. Many new Operas are in rehearsal. Many new artists of International Fame are on their way here to make their American debut in this city and practically all of your favorites of last year are returning.

So get your Box or your Main Floor Season Seats now while good seats are still available.

Come direct to the Auditorium, 58 E. Congress St.
The charts are in the Lobby at the Box Office

NO O'CLOCK LIMIT PUT ON SLOWLY RISING 'FLU' LID

Amusements to Open by Zones, Starting on North Side.

As the Chicago quarantine lid is being lifted, the Illinois influenza-pneumonia commission attached an unprecedented string.

By these successive geographical zones, the theaters and movies start tomorrow—those in the loop first. By the same steps, the city will spread over the city and the city will spread over the city.

And every one of these forms of activity must shut down for the rest of the week at 10 p. m. The last curfew must fall in the theater, the police must maintain its vitality to with the receding waves of the epidemic.

The commission refused to authorize the bars to open on Saturday. It is the bars up against all forms of public dancing. There will be no dancing tomorrow and then the bars will be allowed to open.

WM. A. LYDON, ENGINEER AND YACHTSMAN, DIES

Lifetime Resident of Chicago Succumbs to Long Illness.

William A. Lydon, president of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company and one of America's best known yachtsmen, died last night at his home, 4781 Grand boulevard, following an illness of several months.

He was 58 years old, and although born in Buffalo, N. Y., had lived in Chicago since boyhood.

Mr. Lydon was graduated from Lehigh university, where he studied civil engineering. He served as civil engineer for the city of Chicago from 1887 to 1890. He was a member of the original engineering party that made the preliminary survey for the drainage district. In 1891 he became a member of the firm of Lydon & Drews company, river and harbor contractors.

This firm built the Lake View crib and the Hyde Park tunnel. In 1904 Mr. Lydon organized and became president of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company. This company has done extensive work at many ports of the great lakes.

His Yacht Club Submarine. He formerly was president of the Chicago Yacht club and owner of the yacht Lydonia, which he turned over to the government for duty as a submarine chaser when the United States entered the war. Only a short time ago it sank a German submarine in the Mediterranean.

Member of Many Clubs. Among the various clubs and organizations in which Mr. Lydon held membership are the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Western Society of Engineers, and the Quinsigamond, Chicago Athletic, South Shore, Exmoor, Beverly, and the Olympia Fields country clubs.

He is survived by Mrs. Lydon, two daughters, Marion and Lella, and a son, Eugene. He was a nephew of former Mayor John P. Hopkins, who died recently.

New Plan for Getting Money for "Good Faith" It was by long odds the fattest pocketbook that Mrs. Prudensale Farubb, 3718 Indiana avenue, ever saw in her life. It lay there, flat on its back, on South Wabash avenue, choking with bills. Mrs. Farubb and a colored woman both dived for it. It looked like a million dollars.

As they dived, Mrs. Farubb missed by a finger's length, but she thought she had some claim on the ivory. A colored man agreed to act as referee. Mrs. Farubb was given the pocketbook to carry to the place of division. To show good faith it was exacted that she deposit $25.

Some one did something, for all she got was a wad of paper in handkerchief, she told the police last night.

Arrest on $500 Fraud Charge Spoils Auto Ride Louis R. Starkey made a date last night over the telephone to meet a girl for a motor ride at North Paulina street and West Chicago avenue. The police arrested him soon after the ride started. He is charged with failure to return in collection of $500 to the E. M. Brunnells Auto Sales company of Hammond, for which he worked as collector.

HENRY D. BAKER, U. S. DIPLOMAT, SUED BY WIFE

Consul at Trinidad, West Indies, Charged with Desertion.

Henry Dunster Baker, American consul at Trinidad, West Indies, was made defendant in a suit for divorce filed yesterday in the Circuit court. Desertion is charged by Mrs. Gwyneth Griffith Baker, whom he married in Australia in 1910. There is one child.

The defendant is a son of the late William T. Baker, who was president of the World's Columbian exposition and at one time president of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Henry Dunster Baker is rated an authority on finance, and has held numerous important posts for the government. He was consul to Hobart, Tasmania, from 1907 to 1910; consul to Nassau, 1913-1915; consul at Bombay, 1915-1916; and was assigned to duty in the American embassy at Petrograd in 1916. He also has investigated trade conditions in New Zealand and India for the United States.

New in Trinidad. Mr. Baker's Chicago address is given as the University club. At the club it was said his mail still is being forwarded to Trinidad. He was appointed consul there Oct. 27, 1916.

His present marriage is the second for Mr. Baker. In 1906 he married Edna Wallen, an actress from Asheville, N. C., said to be a niece of Gen. Lew Wallace. After a honeymoon abroad they returned to America and his wife left him shortly afterward to return to the stage. In 1909 he sued for divorce in Chicago and the suit was not contested.

The first Mrs. Baker was supposed to have been a protégé of George W. Vanderbilt. He heard her singing in a church choir at Asheville, the story goes, and was so struck with her voice he offered to pay for her musical education. The offer was accepted.

Met in Australia. Mr. Baker met his present wife while he was acting consul general of the United States in Australia. They were married at Sydney.

In her bill Mrs. Baker relates that her husband is worth at least $500,000 and has a fixed income of $5,000. The amount of alimony asked is not revealed.

FIELD MUSEUM TURNED OVER FOR WAR HOSPITAL

Fireproof, with room for more than 4,000 beds, the new Field museum in Grant park, just being completed at a cost of $600,000, is to be converted into a great army hospital. The massive new structure has just been turned over to the government by Stanley Field, president.

Barracks to house 300 soldiers and living quarters for 400 nurses will be constructed in Grant park nearby. The ground floor of the building will be devoted to mess halls and the entire four floors to hospital purposes, including operating rooms, laboratories, rest rooms, etc.

Army officials say it probably will be the largest fireproof hospital in the world. It is expected there will be need for beds for 100,000 to 150,000 wounded soldiers and it is believed other great museums will be turned over to the government in other cities.

Girl Wears Hun Badges Until Uncle Sam Frowns

She was a "knockout" among the other girls while she lasted, but wearing shoulder straps taken from the uniform of a German soldier and a Hun cap insignia on a jaunty "overalls" cap, she was brought to the federal building yesterday and quizzed by government operatives.

"I got them from a soldier friend of mine over in France," she explained, tearfully. "I thought they were unique, so I sewed them on and started wearing them. I didn't see anything wrong in it."

"Well, you're lucky there hasn't been a mob somewhere, with you the central figure, so I guess we will just keep them," she was informed, and off came the Hun paraphernalia. She gave the name of Katherine O'Mell.

Lady with the Gray Veil Taken for Con Game

Mrs. Ethel Sepulveda was arrested yesterday on a charge of operating a confidence game. She had cashed nearly $3,000 in money orders of the Wells-Fargo Express company, the police say. They call her "the lady with the gray veil." They are seeking her companion, Otto L. Armstrong, former dance hall proprietor.

LIBERTY BOND TO WOMAN LEADS TO YOUTH'S ARREST

Ex-Convict's Son Is Caught by His Misstep Here.

Fred R. Frank Jr., son of an ex-convict and himself sought for a bank robbery, was caught yesterday by police officers of the campaign.

There were taggers at every corner and in all the big department stores and office buildings of the loop and they worked from early morning till after the rush hour last night. They found a generous public. Contributions poured in at a rate exceeding all expectations.

One of the most successful collectors was Mrs. John Wolters, the pretty French wife of Ensign Wolters of the navy. She was stationed at State and Washington streets and her "mile box" was a German helmet taken from a dead Hun officer at Chateau Thierry. Directors of the campaign were Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, chairman of the Chicago committee of the Fatherless Children of France fund; Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, Mrs. R. T. Crane Jr., Mrs. Frederick Murphy, Mrs. Howard Linn, Mrs. Stanley Keith, and Mrs. James C. Hutchins.

Narrow Squeeze Here. Young Frank was traced to Higginsville, Mo., then to Chicago. News that the police were trailing him reached him while he was stopping at the Grand Pacific hotel. He quit the hotel half an hour ahead of detectives.

His trail was lost for a time, but his love for the "bright lights" led to his capture. He is only 19 years old, and has all the youngster's love of fine clothing and all that goes with it. When the hunt for him reached New York, the leading hotels were watched, and young Frank soon was located in an expensive suite at the McAlpin.

The Woman in the Case. Frank's visit to Chicago was believed to be to see his father, who is on parole after being convicted for robbery. The son was here in the heat of the last Liberty loan drive, and in keeping with his pose of a rich man's son he bought a $105 bond, paying cash for it. He mailed that bond to a girl friend in Missouri, and the letter eventually helped lead to his capture.

TAG DAY YIELDS FRENCH WAIFS OF WAR $60,000

Tag day for the war waifs of France yielded $60,000 in Chicago yesterday, according to estimates made last night by officials of the campaign.

There were taggers at every corner and in all the big department stores and office buildings of the loop and they worked from early morning till after the rush hour last night. They found a generous public. Contributions poured in at a rate exceeding all expectations.

One of the most successful collectors was Mrs. John Wolters, the pretty French wife of Ensign Wolters of the navy. CORN GOD GIVES HIM JAIL TERM

Louis Kurawski extracted an ear of corn from his pocket, poked it reverently between the palms of his hands, and then began praying yesterday morning just before his case was called in the Court of Domestic Relations. He was charged with nonsupport.

"He calls it his god," explained Mrs. Kurawski to Judge Gemmill, "and he thinks it will answer his prayer now and protect him from the court action. He is a dangerous man."

The judge summoned Kurawski to the bar. "You are the type of Russian who have helped to ruin their fatherland. I'm going to let you have what the rest of your compatriots should have—one year in the bridewell."

Dog Catchers Catch Man-Biting Black Cat

A strange black cat suddenly appeared while Louis E. Giesberger was eating lunch at his home, 18 East Fifty-first street, yesterday noon, and bit him on the hand and on the knee. The police and dog catchers captured it.

MAYOR HIDES HIS 'SOLID 6' BEHIND 4 BIG LABOR MEN

Shannon Says Post Given Fitzpatrick Doesn't Exist.

Mayor Thompson yesterday sought to use organized labor to force the city council to confirm his reappointment of the "solid six" of the deposed school board as members of a new board of eleven members, as required under the Ols law.

The mayor went the names of the eleven appointees to the city council, which held a special session at his request to receive the list. This showed that the mayor had "sugar coated" the "solid six" with the names of four union labor officials, apparently going on the assumption, according to some members of the council, that the council would not dare to reject the union men, and that in confirming their appointment the council undoubtedly would confirm the "solid six."

The Labor Men Named. John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor; Edward N. Nockels, secretary of the federation; Simon O'Donnell, president of the Chicago Building Trades council, and Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor and member of the State Council of Defense, were the labor men appointed. Their names were sent along with Mrs. Frances E. Thornton, Edwin S. Davis, president of the deposed board; George B. Arnold, Mrs. E. G. Woodruff, Dr. R. B. Ray, Adair Hart Hanson, and Albert H. Severinghaus, comprising the "solid six."

Jacob M. Loeb was not mentioned by the mayor. Mr. Loeb is president of the present school board and was appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council more than a year ago for a five year term on the school board. He was to have been one of the eleven members of the new board, but now the mayor and his side claim Loeb has not qualified under the previous confirmation, and is out if the council confirms a new board of eleven. Some of the aldermen declared that as the council had confirmed the appointment of Mr. Loeb and Mrs. Thornton the mayor has only the power to send in nine new names.

Test May Come Next Monday. The mayor said he had asked that another special session of the council be held next Monday to pass on his appointments, which also included Charles R. Francis, former attorney for the "solid six," as commissioner of public works, to succeed Frank I. Bennett, who resigned to take a state position. Action on this was deferred for a week.

Ald. George F. Hill sought to have the school board names sent to a committee composed of chairmen of all council committees. This move failed on a motion to suspend the rules. It took 11 yeas to 10 nays to reject it. Ald. Hill did succeed in having an order passed asking the committee on schools, fire, police and civil service to look into the legal aspects of the situation and report to the council whether the mayor has the power to appoint eleven school trustees and ignore Mr. Loeb's previous appointment. The fact that this order was passed was a shock to some of the Thompson side, who had to consult the council record to make sure the council was so.

Labor Men Accept. The schools committee may assist the council in blocking confirmation of any appointees until after Tuesday's election, as many of the aldermen want to do. There seemed to be no complaint regarding the labor men, but a majority of the aldermen, fearing being used "to make the council swallow the 'solid six'." For this reason there may be votes against the labor men from aldermen who are friendly to them and their cause.

Mr. Fitzpatrick is in the east, and Mr. Olander is ill. Mr. Nockels, speaking for them, said they had consented to accept the appointment. Mr. Nockels said he had accepted, and Mr. O'Donnell said he had, too.

"It is about the proportion that union labor is entitled to on the school board," said Mr. O'Donnell. "Mr. Arnold is another labor man, and labor would have five members out of eleven."

"Politics," Shannon Says. "I think the mayor's action was a monumental blunder," said Angus Roy Shannon, attorney for the school board, who drew up the law. "I cannot conceive how the council can confirm the mayor's appointments and retain its self-respect. The mayor is playing politics and using the labor men for aid."

"In naming Mr. Fitzpatrick for a five year term, the mayor imposed on Mr. Fitzpatrick because he named him for a vacancy which does not exist. Mr. Loeb and Mrs. Thornton took their oaths of office and the Supreme court has ruled on their status, so it looks as if the mayor is trying to promise something for Mr. Fitzpatrick which he can't deliver."

"If the council were to confirm the eleven named by the mayor it would result in absolute disorganization of the school system, a more costly litigation. I don't think the union labor men want to lend themselves to this scheme, especially as they will be a minority and will recall what happened to the minority under the regime of the 'solid six.'"

May Imposes Vote. An effort undoubtedly will be made at the council's next special session to separate the vote on the appointments. If a vote is taken on each name separately it is believed the union men will be confirmed and the "solid six" rejected.

CHICAGO AND ILLINOIS GRID GAMES OFF FOR THIS SATURDAY

OHIO STATE MAY PLAY PURPLE AT EVANSTON FIELD

Midway and Urbana Put in Scope of "Flu" Ban for Week at Least.

The appointment of Walter Eckersall, football critic of "The Tribune," as a member of the executive committee of the United War Work Sport campaign, Nov. 11 to 18, was announced in a telegram from New York last night. The telegram was signed by W. W. Raper, executive secretary. Mr. Eckersall wired his acceptance. It is expected his activities will be confined to Chicago.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
An announcement was made yesterday by state and city health officers that the ban on athletic contests in Chicago and the southern part of the state will not be lifted this week. This ruling will cause the canceling of the football games scheduled for Saturday between Chicago and Purdue on Stage field, and Illinois and Iowa at Urbana. The advisability of allowing Ohio State to meet Northwestern at Evanston on Saturday was left to the discretion of Health Commissioner Rooms of Evanston.

C. St. Clair Drake, state director of public health, asserted the danger of the spread of Spanish influenza is not far enough passed to allow public gatherings at football or other athletic contests. He said the cheering and yelling caused the throats to become raw and make the persons more susceptible to the disease.

Decision by Dr. Robertson.
The state director of public health left the lifting of the ban in Chicago up to Dr. John Dill Robertson, city health commissioner. Dr. Robertson said he would not think of permitting any contests at which the spectators "get excited in the open air." He agreed with Dr. Drake that the danger has not passed far enough to permit such contests with safety.

The ruling will be a severe blow to football, which is experiencing one of its most important seasons in history. The gridiron stars have patiently waited for games, and the coaches have done their utmost to develop teams which will make creditable appearances. Fans and players have shown the utmost patience, but the rulings of the authorities must be adhered to. Another meeting will be held tomorrow, but Dr. Drake said yesterday's rulings were final for this week.

Evansville Game Unclouded.
Dr. Robertson refused to commit himself in regard to conditions in Evanston. He asserted Commissioner Rooms was familiar with the situation in Chicago's suburb, and the matter of allowing the Ohio State-Northwestern game to be played was entirely up to him.

Not only will college football be stopped but also high and preparatory school matches and other athletic contests. Schedules will have to be revised in some sort of fashion to determine the strongest teams in the different divisions.

Ohio-Purple Game Important.
Coach Murphy in scheduling a game with Ohio State yesterday said he had listed the game with the understanding the ban will be lifted in Evanston on Saturday. This game was originally scheduled to be played on Oct. 19, but the war department's ruling prohibiting out of town trips during the month of October caused it to be canceled. If this game is permitted it will be one of the most important contests to be played in the west this year.

Notre Dame Drills for Battle with Nebraska
Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The Saturday game at Nebraska apparently is definitely canceled. The war department's ruling prohibiting out of town trips during the month of October caused it to be canceled. If this game is permitted it will be one of the most important contests to be played in the west this year.

LT. M'REAVY, U.S.N., REPLACES OLCOTT AS GREAT LAKES COACH

Great Lakes, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The former Yale football player who has coached the Great Lakes football team for the last two years, was relieved of his duties today by Capt. W. A. McReavy, commandant of the station, and Lieut. C. J. McReavy, a former Annapolis player, was placed in charge.

The reason given was that Capt. McReavy desired to have a navy man in charge of the football situation. It has been known for some time that officials of the station were not pleased with the results of this year's games. The team has been slow to round into form, and it is believed that larger scores should have been made against Iowa and Illinois. The scoreless tie with Northwestern last Saturday was a bitter disappointment to the thousands of sailors, some of whom gave up their liberty to see the contest.

Lieut. McReavy is considered one of the best ends who ever played football at the United States naval academy. Since he graduated from Annapolis he has kept in the regular drill from 1914 to 1918, and it is hoped he will bolster up the eleven before the game with Annapolis is played on Nov. 23.

MURPHY HANDS TIP TO RIVALS
Fred Murphy, coach of Northwestern university football team, has shown his true colors by not trying to steal a march on the coaches of other conference eleven by the Purple. Permitted by the commandant to practice during the regular drill period from 10:30 o'clock in the morning until noon and then drill during the old practice hours, 4:30 o'clock until 6 in the afternoon, Coach Murphy has urged the other coaches to ask their commandants to change the practice hours, citing Northwestern as an example. Owing to the change in time it would be dark when other teams report for practice.

Northwestern Will Play Game for War Charities
Prof. R. E. Wilson, athletic director at Northwestern University, and Coach Fred Murphy, are making arrangements for a football game to be played during the week starting Nov. 11, for the benefit of the United War Charities. It is the plan of both to have all the departmental schools closed, so that all students may attend the contest. Northwestern's opponent has not been selected, but it may be the Great Lakes.

Sprafka of Grid Fame May Re-enter Minnesota
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—"Galloping" Joe Sprafka, well known to conference football fans, may be a Gopher again. Joe returned to the city Saturday and declared his intentions of entering the university and getting out for the team. Carleton college of Northfield, which team defeated Chicago several years ago, is the Minnesota opponent for Northrop field next Saturday.

Badgers After Harper for Coach of Football
Madison, Wis., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The athletic department of the University of Wisconsin is negotiating with Dr. Harper, former Notre Dame mentor, to coach the team for the balance of the season. At present, however, it is not known whether or not an agreement has been reached.

ONEALE, NET STAR, KILLED
New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—James O'Neale, nephew of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and one of the leading tennis players of this city died on Oct. 3 of wounds received in action, according to word received here tonight by his wife.

There's something about them you'll like.

LT. M'REAVY, U.S.N., REPLACES OLCOTT AS GREAT LAKES COACH

Great Lakes, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The former Yale football player who has coached the Great Lakes football team for the last two years, was relieved of his duties today by Capt. W. A. McReavy, commandant of the station, and Lieut. C. J. McReavy, a former Annapolis player, was placed in charge.

The reason given was that Capt. McReavy desired to have a navy man in charge of the football situation. It has been known for some time that officials of the station were not pleased with the results of this year's games. The team has been slow to round into form, and it is believed that larger scores should have been made against Iowa and Illinois. The scoreless tie with Northwestern last Saturday was a bitter disappointment to the thousands of sailors, some of whom gave up their liberty to see the contest.

Lieut. McReavy is considered one of the best ends who ever played football at the United States naval academy. Since he graduated from Annapolis he has kept in the regular drill from 1914 to 1918, and it is hoped he will bolster up the eleven before the game with Annapolis is played on Nov. 23.

MURPHY HANDS TIP TO RIVALS
Fred Murphy, coach of Northwestern university football team, has shown his true colors by not trying to steal a march on the coaches of other conference eleven by the Purple. Permitted by the commandant to practice during the regular drill period from 10:30 o'clock in the morning until noon and then drill during the old practice hours, 4:30 o'clock until 6 in the afternoon, Coach Murphy has urged the other coaches to ask their commandants to change the practice hours, citing Northwestern as an example. Owing to the change in time it would be dark when other teams report for practice.

STOCK TRADING LIVELY DESPITE CURB ON LOANS

Prices Show Effort Being Made to Stop Speculation.

(New York Times Financial Review.)
New York, Oct. 23.—[Special.]—
The day on the stock exchange today

To the announcement of the decision of the money committee to call on the banks to require at least a 20 per cent margin for the purchase of gold.

In the interval between last Wednesday and today the dealings had continued sharply, but their resumption today was not so active as yesterday, and it has been seen that upon speculation has been insufficient, at least in advance of the actual application of the new rule, to indicate that such action would effect to keep business on the new volume from growing beyond ordinary volume.

Try to Curb Speculation.

The course which prices took last Tuesday, however, was not so favorable to financial circles to prevent speculation assuming proportions which would require the service of a large staff of operators to handle the business.

In the day's irregular price movements sharp reactions, following closely on the heels of further advances in the early

On one hand peace discussion is prompting expansion in speculation in a number of directions, and on the other hand are earnest efforts which are being made to prevent speculation in the new securities of the new issue, for which there will be for considerable time to come much more important uses.

Harold Cassette Credit.

If the individual speculator, however, does not stop to think that in buying stocks or bonds he may be employing credit which is needed in some form for the war at least, bankers and all others who have to do with the handling of credit have to take to appreciate that there is still a great deal of work to be done in the way of spreading the financial requirements of the nation.

Don't a large number of brokerage houses have already placed their business requirements, but the full application of the new rule, which does not go into effect until Nov. 4, will be needed to show whether or not the 30 per cent requirement is sufficient to prevent unnecessary use of credit on the stock exchange.

NEWS OF PEACE MAIN FACTOR IN GRAIN MARKETS

Corn Closes Lower on Reports of Austrian Move.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

What was the main factor in the grain markets yesterday? There was nothing but the peace reports at times, but values reacted after the recessions. At the close corn was 10 1/2c lower and oats unchanged to 1/2c lower, the strength being in December in Chicago.

Corn in the southwestern markets was 1/2c to 3/4c lower and oats 1/2c to 3/4c higher to St. Louis, and in Kansas City they were 1/2c to 3/4c lower. At Minneapolis, corn was 1/2c lower, and in Winnipeg was 1/2c lower.

Provisions were unsettled by the big advance in hogs, due to the readjustment to the new basis for the latter. Nearby product gained 5c on lard and short ribs, while January lard lost 3c and short ribs were off 2c.

Peace news depressed corn. Peace news and bad weather conditions were responsible for an erratic corn market. Prices fluctuated rapidly within a range of 3/4c to 1c, and closed at intermediate figures, with a moderate loss. Corn closed at 10 1/2c, December at 10 1/2c, and January at 10 1/2c.

Local traders bought on an early break and made an advance to above Saturday's close, the heavy rains and forecast for more, with the prospect of a decreased movement, being responsible for the advance. The market was unsettled by the big advance in hogs, due to the readjustment to the new basis for the latter.

On the New York market, corn followed corn in the main, but the December developed a little independent strength, and closed about unchanged, with the nearby deliveries fractionally lower. Prices had a range of 1/2c to 3/4c, and closed with October at 10 1/2c, November at 10 1/2c, and December at 10 1/2c.

On the sample market, corn was about 1/2c lower, with No. 1 white selling at 10 1/2c under November, losing the premium over the future which has prevailed for so long. Receipts were 574 cars. No government or seaboard bids were reported, and there was some selling attributed to the seaboard.

Barley prices lower. Offerings of two were larger and demand fair, with spot prices unchanged to 1/2c lower. No. 3 sold at 10 1/2c to 1 1/2c. Futures were unchanged. Receipts 27 cars. Outside markets were unchanged. The northwest had 150 cars.

Flaxseed at Duluth closed 12 1/2c to 12 3/4c. October, 12 1/2c; December, 12 3/4c; March, 12 1/2c. The three markets had 71 cars. Timothy seed unchanged. March, 11 1/2c bid. Country lots, 10 1/2c to 10 3/4c. The Toledo market was unchanged. October, 12 1/2c; December, 12 3/4c; March, 12 1/2c. The three markets had 71 cars.

Produce taken on bulge. Hogs and produce advanced sharply early and the market throughout was nervous, with wide swings in prices at times. Business transacted was moderate, with prices for hogs, corn, and soybeans, showing a small reaction from the top at the last. The jump in hogs of around 10c to 12c in the past three days is said to have put farmers in a position of turning back. Near-by deliveries advanced to the maximum and held it at the last. Shipments of meats and lard were large and in excess of last year's. Receipts last week, which were also smaller than last year's. Prices follow:

The Farm Journal

The National Farm Paper

Offers Eighteen National Honor Medals and $10,500 to the Farmers who in 1919 Harvest the Largest Crops of Corn, Wheat, Cotton, Oats, Potatoes and Alfalfa.

FROM the Dakotas to the Gulf, from Maine to California, more intensive farming, better care of land, more careful harvesting, more efficient merchandising of all staple crops will inevitably come about in every section of rural America, as a direct result of this Nation-wide contest.

Over one million families will know of The Farm Journal's awards, will follow the progress of the contest, and will then profit by the methods of the winners. The interest and confidence of farmers everywhere will be centered in The Farm Journal to a remarkable degree by these eighteen splendid awards:

6 Gold Medals and $1,000 Each

This great contest indicates, as perhaps nothing else could, the Nationalism of The Farm Journal, the only farm paper big enough to meet the needs of the National advertiser.

Every manufacturer who sells Nationally, who seeks National prestige and values National good-will, will accomplish most by using The Farm Journal, which keeps pace Nationally with his own sales efforts. With over one million circulation, The Farm Journal reaches practically one-half the 2,257,000 farm families most desirable to advertisers.*

Besides having the largest total circulation, The Farm Journal dominates each section of the United States where merchandising conditions most appeal to manufacturers. The chart below proves The Farm Journal's leadership. More, it indicates buying power by showing the proportion of farms run by owners and the average value of farms. It also gives the standing of the next strongest farm paper.

	Farms run by owners	Total Value Per Farm	The Farm Journal Circulation	2nd Paper Circulation
N. E. States	86%	$ 4,986	65,603	41,675
N. A. States	67	7,347	233,854	146,108
So. E. States	55	2,519	39,081	41,012
So. W. States	52	2,382	80,645	97,041
Middle States	71	11,157	479,161	454,610
Western States	86	12,030	65,176	68,369

It is clear that The Farm Journal has concentrated its sales work in those sections where there are most people, most crops, most owner-run farms, most dealers, most transportation facilities, most educational

If You Don't Make Enough Money—Borrow More!

This is the way Sam Hutton turned a poor farm into a good one in 1918. He borrowed a $10,000 mortgage for a $10,000 loan, and made $100 a year on the deal. Read why he wanted advice, where he got it, how he used it—and then apply the facts to your own case. There is a striking picture before you here of what you can do. Read The Farm Journal for November and find out.

What Farm Made Well

At home and abroad, the Farm Journal is the only paper that gives you the facts of the farm business. It is the only paper that gives you the facts of the farm business. It is the only paper that gives you the facts of the farm business.

resources—most of everything attractive to the advertiser with National distribution.

Three reasons thus urge The Farm Journal upon the manufacturer who wants National influence to match his National distribution: he knows how to use it, his sales organization understands and can cash in on it, and all his merchandising methods operate on a National basis.

Because it, too, is National, The Farm Journal gets the first attention of over one million thinking, buying farmers. Because it is the only farm paper which adequately covers the National farm field, it is today more important than ever before to the National advertiser. Its leadership is bound to continue because, for years after the war, the American farmer must furnish the food and livestock supply, at home and abroad. Because The Farm Journal believes in the future of the United States as a Nation, it is retaining all its present circulation, East and West.

Moreover, as soon as the Germans have surrendered and paper conservation restrictions are no longer necessary, The Farm Journal will forge ahead—for as American farmers take on larger responsibilities they will more and more rely on The Farm Journal. The next decade will see even greater growth and development in our country's history, and this forward movement will bring increased strength and power to The Farm Journal, which now is forecasting this future and providing its million families with full and accurate information along these lines of National expansion.

This is why The Farm Journal—first read, Nationally dominant—takes the guesswork out of advertising, by supplying a compact audience, of uniform responsiveness in every worth-while locality. Back up your National sales efforts, increase National good-will, insure National business after the war by using now The Farm Journal—the one big National influence among country people.

Advertising space in The Farm Journal can be arranged through all accredited advertising agencies. Or The Farm Journal's research department will gladly answer questions about the rapidly changing farm market of today. Frequent personal investigations have revealed unexpected opportunities for quick-thinking, prompt-action advertisers.

The interests of all farm paper advertisers are directly and intimately connected with The Farm Journal's editorial program. For details consult our nearest office.

ALLIES SW
8 MILES
OF PIAVE

16,000 Enemy
—Cavalry
in the O

ROME, Oct. 29.—are reported tonight eight miles east of the Piave and still are driving organized Austrians. Cavalry and light detachments have forced the Monticano river enemy rear guards are headed in the direction of the Piave river to the south. Over the forty miles of the region of Montebelluna, eastward nearly to Portofino, twenty miles north of Treviso, Italian, British, and French troops are everywhere reported advancing today.

Enemy Resistance
The resistance of the Austrians on the British front appears to be weakening. This is indicated by the fact that British cavalry is opening up, following a breakthrough of the enemy. The number of prisoners reported yesterday and officially reported, numbered, while many were herded on the east bank of the Piave, pending an opportunity to cross.

Held East Bank.
On the front of the Italian official state says, the allies are making a bank of the Piave broken down the enemy and driven the Austrians back to the Piave, pending an opportunity to cross.

At the north end of the line on the Piave the allies have stormed the Val di Fiemme and have swept up and down the heights of Colloredo, Susegana plain, and town of that name. Five miles northeast of the Piave, the allies have passed in the night and are within of Oderzo, an important rail center.

French Storm Movement
North of the Montebelluna, the French took Montebelluna, while Italian troops, crossed the Piave and went into the Piave, the Austrians from Piave.

British units, far to the south, raided the trenches opposite the Austrians and found them unoccupied. The captures are many, including field artillery but cannot be counted.

May Turn Entire Line

So far as official reports the attack has not been south of Ponte di Fiume, the Austrians are still in the Piave, the Austrians are still in the Piave.

It is officially reported that the Austrians are still in the Piave.
